ML-2851ND has been built not only to be one of the most dependable and reliable printers currently available, it also prides itself on having one of the best output potentials in its field. At 50000 pages per month, the ML-2851ND manages more printing capability than some of its competitors.

reliable performer enhances production

With the optional second paper tray input is more than doubled. And with a remarkable 400 MHz processor combined with 32MB memory - expandable to 160MB - it's simply the fast, easy to use compact printer on the market.

wired network printing

ML-2851ND offers network printing capabilities to easily connect your workplace, including an Ethernet interface capable of being cabled directly into your network.

double sided printing as standard

We've discarded the need for bulky manuals and elaborate brochures on how to operate your printer. The ML-2851ND is innately easy to operate and can be controlled by the touch of a single button. You'll spend more time with your clients and less time with your appliances.

instant printing at the touch of a button

To save time in having to re-insert a printed page back into your printer, SAMSUNG have secured the convenience of duplex printing. You can now print on both sides of the page in one simple step. Forget waiting around for your printer to do its work - you can now get on with yours.

low cost per page in its class

SAMSUNG ML-2851ND achieves exceptional printing results while reducing total operating costs and realising a low cost per page. Maximise efficiency for your business with the SAMSUNG ML-2850D.
